New bilateral air agreements

*453. DR. KARAN SINGH:
DR. T. SUBBARAMI REDDY:

Will the Minister of CIVIL AVIATION be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government have decided to sign a plethora of new bilateral agreements in regions spanning Middle East, Europe and US, which would throw open more capacities on these routes;

(b) whether his Ministry has identified the Middle East packages in Europe like UK and Germany and the use for entering into new bilaterals;

(c) if so, whether any agreement has been reached;

(d) to what extent Government have been able to open its arm to sky policy;

(e) what are total agreements reached with countries so far; and

(f) to what extent such agreements have been helpful as far as India is concerned?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF CIVIL AVIATION (SHRI PRAFUL PATEL):(a) to (c) Traffic rights for operation of international air services are specified in our bilateral Air Services Agreements concluded with various countries and are reviewed from time to time as part of an on-going process depending on traffic demand, balance of benefit to our carriers, overall interest of national economy and diplomatic/political considerations. Although no specific packages have been identified, as part of the on-going process, bilateral air services consultations on traffic rights have recently been held with USA, China, UK, France, Mauritius, UAE, Australia etc. and additional capacity has been agreed to for operation of air services between India and those countries. Revised/new Air Services Agreements have also been signed/initialed with USA, Australia, Tunisia, Brazil and Qatar over the last couple of years. Bilateral consultations with Germany are yet to be held.

(d) to (f) India has so far entered into bilateral Air Services Agreements with 100 countries. In order to promote international connectivity out of India, traffic rights are being exchanged liberally with most countries having significant point-to-point traffic with India on continuous basis. Though we do not have an open sky regime, liberal exchange of traffic rights has helped in adding capacity on international routes on one hand and has opened up commercial opportunities for our airlines on the other. Due to increased connectivity and competition, tariff reduction on international sector is also expected. Liberalization in international services will benefit the national economy as a whole and tourism, trade/commerce in particular.
